

Rhodocrosite "Love Stone"

By Nature's Finest Art

This rare translucent pink stone is from Argentina. What makes this gemstone so unique is that it is made from stalagmites and stalagmites.

This is where we traditionally find the richest and purest pinks to almost a hint of red in this stone. There is also one very small pocket of Amber color with Silver Pyrite also found in Argentina. The American color, found in Utah, tends to be a lighter pink and have more white banding in it.

Rhodocrosite is also known as the "Love Stone".

In Argentina, the natives truly believe that the stone is known to... bring good love to the one who wears it.

When Rhodocrosite & Garnet are combined they seem to share a true richness. Colors of love are often found in nature. Pink suggests grace, admiration, sympathy, and gentility. Red suggests romance and symbolizes love, respect and courage.
